Sinclair Goes On Trial For Teapot Dome Conspiracy

JUSTICE BAILEY PUTS QUESTIONS TO THE JURORS

OIL PROSECUTORS UPHOLD PRACTICE

Sinclair Faces Charge Of Defrauding Government
In Reserve Leases

Washington, April 9.—Forty-eight men and women had passed through the box in the oil conspiracy trial of Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil man, at noon recess of court today without a jury having been selected.

At the luncheon hour two panels of talesmen had been exhausted, 11 men, including two negroes, were tentatively in the box and the government and the defense each had used seven of their ten peremptory challenges.

Washington, April 9.—The federal government launched its supreme effort today to bring Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil man and sportsman to task for his participation in the so-called oil scandals of the Harding administration.

Shortly after 10 a. m., Sinclair went on trial for criminal conspiracy to defraud the nation of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve in the Court of District Supreme Court Justice Jennings Bailey.

Judge Squeelches Hoover
The first 26 of the 550 men and women available for jury duty were on hand in the tiny court room for questioning. George Hoover, of defense counsel, immediately challenged the court's practice of personally questioning the veniremen to the exclusion of the opposing attorneys, claiming it contrary to all existing law and similar to his famous case.

Hoover then started his argument. Bailey overruled him before he had a dozen words out of his mouth, but permitted him to complete his statement for the purpose of the record. Hoover undertook a very comprehensive argument. The judge finally tired of listening and shut him off, saying:

"I've heard enough. Overruled and an exception noted."

The Sinclair lawyer then tried to ask a venireman a direct question, "just for the sake of the record."

Bailey again squelched Hoover, and the lawyer put a list of desired questions to the bench.

Sinclair listened to the argument in a nonchalant manner, surrounded by his "million-dollar" array of counsel. His co-defendant, former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall, who leased him the disputed oil land in exchange for what the government contends was a $230,500 bribe was missing today—too ill in New Mexico to attempt the journey to Washington.

Owen J. Roberts and Atlee Pomerene, the government's special oil practice of personally interrogating the prospective jurors. It helped in speeding up the trial, Roberts contended.

JURY TO PROBE BUCKET SHOPS

Grand Jurors Also Will Inspect Jail; Given
State's Report

Lisbon, April 9.—In his charge to the grand jury this morning Judge W. F. Lones, suggested that attention be given to the operation of bucket shops in Columbiana county.

The court also filed with the grand jury a report of the state department of charities having to do with the recent investigation of the county jail. Before the grand jury adjourns it will make the usual investigation of this institution and file its report with the court.

The grand jury is expected to complete its work Tuesday afternoon.

MANY GOOD MEN AVAILABLE FOR CHOICE AS VICE-PRESIDENT

POLICE SEARCH FOR SEXTET WHO SLEW MARSHAL

Hold Up Gang fires When Officer Interrupts
Raid On Poolroom

Cincinnati, April 9.—Six desperadoes who held up a pool room in North College Hill, a suburb of this city early yesterday, killed Peter Dumele, 59, the village marshal, and wounded two other men, were the objects of an extensive police search today.

The bandits, all masked, rushed into a pool hall, operated by Lee Staib, Sunday morning holding pistols and saved-off shotguns and commanded Staib and about a dozen patrons of the place to throw up their hands.

Staib, surprised, did not comply immediately and one of the robbers struck him in the face with the butt of a pistol.

At this juncture, Marshal Dumele, unaware that a hold-up was in progress, walked into the room. The leader of the band commanded him to put up his hands and get him in with the rest.

Instead the marshal reached for his pistol. A roar of two shotguns and a pistol, exploding simultaneously, followed and Marshal Dumele dropped to the floor, fatally wounded. A panic resulted, one man jumped through a window and others dropped behind pool tables and other available shelter.

The bandits fled, one of them shooting back into the place with his shotgun. Part of the shot struck Samuel Keller in the back but he was not seriously hurt.

Marshal Dumele was rushed to a hospital where he died. He had been the town marshal for three years. Just before he died he told his wife, Eva, "I couldn't be a coward."

Sun Now Shines For Hotel Cashier

New York, April 9.—Easter happiness flopped for Helen Ballard, cashier at the Hotel Ansonia, when she checked up $90 short Saturday night.

The sun grew brighter on Sunday when a young man approached her window and said:

"I've got $90 too much money in my pocket; I believe you made an error when you cashed my check yesterday."

He was Mark Koenig, shortstop of the New York Yankees.

Canadian Distilleries Have Agents In U.S. To Build Business, Report

Washington, April 9.—Canadian distilleries have agents in many sections of United States and large volumes of liquor are being smuggled into the country by the way of the West Indies and Florida, according to reports under investigation by prohibition authorities.

Officials have information that a considerable portion of the Canadian product is reaching the United States undisturbed and that it is offering severe competition to the domestic bootleg industry.

Agents of Canadian distilleries are said to deal with distributors in large cities and are making every effort to build up a business by getting whiskey to the consumer without adulteration.

Because of the unusual movement of liquor to Canadian lake ports in the last few weeks and the probability that the opening of navigation smuggling on an unprecedented scale will be attempted, the coast guard is rushing more speed boats and men to the lakes.

The border patrol and prohibition forces along the boundary are being strengthened in anticipation of the flood of Canadian liquor and the tourist season which is an annual source of annoyance to customs and dry agents.

During the winter Canadian smugglers have been moving their liquor south to storage in the West Indies from where it is sent to the Florida coast in speed boats and occasionally by airplanes.

The government also has ordered strengthening of the Florida patrol, several additional destroyers having been ordered to those waters.

Rye Industry Increasing
In the meantime an "American rye" industry is threatening to supplant "corn liquor"—the ordinary moonshine vintage—in many sections of the country.

An extensive rye industry is growing up particularly in the east. Use of redistilled industrial alcohol as the basis for intoxicating beverages is on the decline, according to prohibition officials.

Officials, while insisting that the smuggling situation is well under control and that the new rye industry will not be of sufficient scope to cause trouble, admitted that the new activities of the liquor rings is viewed with some apprehension.

2 ESCAPE FROM MAHONING JAIL

Youngstown, April 9.—George Golden, 22, and Thomas Dugan, 23, two prisoners who escaped from the Mahoning county jail here were sought today by authorities of Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Golden, who was held under $30,000 bond for the grand jury on charges of holding up gasoline stations and drug stores in Sharon, Pa., and Youngstown, Niles and Hubbard, Ohio; and Dugan who was charged with robbing box cars, escaped Sunday when they let themselves down from an upper jail tier with a rope made of blankets, authorities said.

The president said this support will be a fitting final opportunity to honor Senator Willis.

Byrd's Aides Stake Out 31 Gold Mine Claims On Test Flight

Detroit, April 9.—Floyd Bennett and Ernst Balchen, members of the Byrd South Pole expedition were back in Detroit today telling how they explored the Canadian gold fields north of Winnipeg in a Ford monoplane and staked out 31 claims.

The flyers went into Northern Canada to test out the Ford monoplane under conditions similar to those anticipated in the South Pole flight scheduled to start this fall. The plane performed satisfactorily, they reported, in sub-zero temperatures and using landing ski instead of wheels. The test flights lasted ten days.

Besides Bennett and Balchen, nine other persons were carried to the gold fields in the Ford plane. The party staked out 31 claims. One is next to a claim that sold for $20,000.

Bennett said the plane had taken off and landed on ice and hard and soft snow with a load of 13,000 pounds. The monoplane's weight, 5,982 pounds, is included in this figure.

Besides Bennett and Balchen, the monoplane carried 31 others on the return trip to Detroit. They were: Miss Helen Anita McGregor, Winnipeg pianist; her uncle, Harry Russell; L. L. Lang, of Winnipeg; George King and Joseph Crossen, two Alaskan fliers employed by the Western Canada Airways, and Robert E. Donohue, a new reel cameraman.

CHICAGO TENSE AS CANDIDATES END CAMPAIGN

Final Verbal Bombs Are
Tossed As Election
Draws Near

Chicago, April 9.—With tension near the breaking point, rival candidates in Chicago's bitterest of all election campaigns today hurled their final verbal bombs over the heads of a nerve-strained citizenry.

The warring Republican factions are headed by United States Senator Charles S. Deneen, Louis Emmerson and Judge John A. Swanson on one side, and by Governor Len Small, Mayor William Hale Thompson and State's Attorney Crowe on the other.

The principal fight Tuesday rages around the nomination for governor and for state's attorney of Cook county (Chicago).

Senator Deneen and Mayor Thompson, field marshals for their respective forces, are not up for any office at this time, but their political fortunes depend on the success of their respective candidates.

Len Small, incumbent, is seeking the nomination to succeed himself as governor.

He is opposed by Louis L. Emmerson of the Deneen camp.

Robert E. Crowe, who seeks to succeed himself as state's attorney of Cook county, is opposed by Judge Swanson.

The Small Thompson-Crowe faction has campaigned under the slogan of "America First," which has become a target for the Deneen forces.

Deneen campaigners ask at every rally what "America First" has to do with enforcing the laws in Chicago and the reputation the city holds throughout the world.

OFFICIALS SPLIT ON MAN'S DEATH

Coroners Fail To Agree On Manner In Which
Mather Died

Alliance, April 9.—After a week's probe into the death of C. W. Mather, local auto dealer, officials of Stark and Knox counties today were apparently unable to agree as to how Mather met his fate.

The dealer's charred body was discovered April 1 in his burned automobile near Mt. Vernon. While coroner C. L. Harmer of Knox county has rendered a verdict of homicide, Coroner T. C. McQuate of Stark county is inclined to believe that Mather committed suicide.

Citing his reasons for returning the homicide verdict, Harmer said Mather's body was found in the rear seat of his automobile and that 75 cents had been found on the running board of the machine, indicating that robbery had been the motive for Mather's murder.

McQuate, with other Stark county authorities, declared they based their suicide theory on the post-mortem examination which was said to have shown that Mather's lungs had been badly burned, indicating that he had been alive and breathing and had inhaled flames leaping about him.

Two Alliance women were quoted as saying that Mather had frequently threatened suicide because of financial difficulties.

LEGISLATIVE JAM DUE FOR 6 WEEKS

Republicans Want Time To Make Plans For The Convention

Washington, April 9.—Although a monster legislative program awaits enactment, party leaders today began preparation for adjournment of the first session of the 70th congress on May 19.

This would send congress home three weeks in advance of the Republican National convention at Kansas City.

The date was fixed tentatively at the insistence of Republican leaders who held that three weeks was a very brief period in which to complete their plan for the "free-for-all" contest likely to ensue at Kansas City in the race for the Republican presidential nomination.

Democratic leaders appeared willing to abide by the Republican decision. First, the minority spokesmen held that in a nominal Republican congress, the Republican leaders should set the date of adjournment, and second, they felt an early adjournment would tend to help the Democratic cause because the Republican party would be held responsible for all legislation not enacted.

With six week's work ahead, the legislative situation is as follows:

Legislative Situation
The house, McNary-Haugen farm bill, Boulder Dam bill, Jones Merchant marine, flood relief and Muscle Shoals bills on calendar. St. Lawrence waterway, Columbia river basin and Welch salary increase bills in committee. Has enacted the tax reduction, new navy, and postal rate decrease bills.

The senate: McNary-Haugen farm bill, Boulder Dam bill, Jones Merchant marine bill, the new navy measure and the postal rate decrease bill. Their favored positions came from the fact that they have passed one branch of congress or else appear at the top of the legislative calendar in branches.

With adjournment but six weeks away, however, all or any of these bills could be defeated by filibustering tactics. A presidential veto undoubtedly would kill any or all of them, and administration leaders have predicted the president will use his veto freely.

AUTO ACCIDENTS AT A MINIMUM

Few Traffic Mishaps In

Pitiful snow flurries and a raw, March-like wind, experienced in most sections of the state Easter Sunday kept many of Ohio's motorists indoors, and as a result traffic accidents were at a minimum over the week-end.

Columbus—Mrs. Jennie Pangle, 40, was killed when hit by an auto as she was crossing a street Sunday morning. The driver was not at fault, according to police.

Columbus—Mrs. Bertha Hahn, 51, died from a fractured skull sustained when she was struck by an auto.

ALLIANCE MAN GIVEN $100 FINE

Arrested For Drunken
Driving After Auto
Damaged Another

Alfonso Murchison, colored, of Alliance, was fined $100 and costs this morning by Mayor Hiddleston and had his driver's license revoked for six months on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated.

Murchison was arrested by Patrolman William Beardon, at 9:30 p. m. Sunday after his car had been swiped another car on Main st., and he attempted to escape.

The driver of the other car hopped on Murchison's car and called to Beardon, who found Murchison unable to control his car. Beardon and Patrolman Wilber Hiddleston placed Murchison under arrest and took him to the city jail.

It was found that he had crashed into another car, belonging to Ray Donerty, of Columbiana, earlier in the evening, badly damaging the car.

Murchison made arrangements to pay the fine, and damages on the Doherty car, and was released.

Washington, April 9.—Efforts of the fire department's rescue squad and eight physicians to save the life of Elizabeth Moffett, 15-year-old daughter of Rear Admiral William A. ## SALONA SUPPLY BUILDING RAZED; GARAGE BURNED

Flames of Undetermined
Origin Also Damage
Station, Cars

SALENA BUILDING CONTENTS BURNED

Alliance Fire Department
Aids Fight On Blaze;
Wire Service Out

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the Salona Supply company building and its contents; a garage owned by George Blake, and three cars for the Pennsylvania Railroad company at Garfield Sunday night with an estimated loss of $30,000.

The fire was discovered by Thomas Frederick, of Garfield, when he was returning home about 11:30 p. m.—It probably started in the north side of the Salona company's building, where there was an arrangement for loading and unloading feed.

Although the Alliance fire department responded to a call to help fight the flames, the fire spread so rapidly that a garage not far from the Salona company's building was consumed, and a box car on the Pennsylvania company's switch, filled with fertilizer, owned by Sylvester Martig, who lives north of Garfield, was destroyed.

Station On Fire
Two other cars on the switch were not completely destroyed, although the railroad ties loaded in one were consumed. The other car contained steel equipment. It was said, and it probably would not be an entire loss.

Herbert Lee, manager of the Salona company's plant, stated that there had been no fire in the building since Saturday morning, and that when he was in the building Sunday everything was all right.

An official of the Salona company stated Monday morning that the company has not determined what caused the fire but he was of the opinion that it was not set on fire. This official said that the company's loss would be about $12,000, and it was partially covered by insurance.

The Pennsylvania railroad station was on fire twice, but each time firemen extinguished the flames before much damage was done.

Telegraph lines were burned and service was interrupted for several hours.

The Salona Supply company probably will rebuild at Garfield, although it has not been definitely decided. A meeting of the directors will be held Monday evening and the matter may be settled in the next few days.

COMMUNISM DOOMED

It seems to be a case of just one thing after another bobbing up to trouble bolshevik Russia. At present the Russian communists are really worked up over the "Peace Industry" movement, which has taken root in England, France and Germany and is rapidly spreading to other European countries. In it, the Soviet Russia recognizes a mighty thrust at communism, which she reaches even though she does not allow it, for there can be no communism where a few leaders in power take to themselves, for their own use and enrichment, the choice of stealings, in that the movement embraces the profit-sharing system, which has gained such popularity in his country, under which workers may purchase shares in corporations by which they are employed.

The communist International of Moscow says that the adoption by Europe of American industrial ideas is threatening the very existence of foreign communist parties and directly opposes the communist International's program for class warfare, civil war and revolution.

In a circular letter addressed to the communist parties of England, France and Germany, the executive committee of the communist International urges that they "open a desperate, merciless campaign against all forms of agreements being made between industrial enterprises and workers, especially against obligatory arbitration of differences."

The letter, which is signed by Vladimir Bukharin, says that communists abroad, instead of entering into trade agreements, should adopt a slogan of more and bigger strikes, and that, a strike having been declared, communists should obtain positions on the strike committees and arrange demonstrations which will lead to open armed conflict with authorities wherever possible, "since it is only through the intensifying of the differences between capital and labor that the communist parties can increase their membership."

The Moscow Pravda, which published the Bukharin letter, in the same article gave an account of a conference between the supreme council on national economy and the Council of Trade Unions, which, the paper discloses, broke up in a row.

According to the Pravda, several union leaders accused the economic council of graft, inefficiency, and of failing to provide enough funds to permit the industries to pay their workers regularly or purchase necessary raw materials. The labor men said the council built a huge tannery at Odessa, costing 211,000,000 rubles—about $10,500,000—more than triple the original estimates. After it had been operated for a month the lack of raw materials caused a shutdown.

No doubt there are some who yet doubt that the purpose of the Russian reds is to spread revolution throughout the world and overthrow all government, that the stealings in Russia may be duplicated on a many times more gigantic scale. There doubtless are those who refuse to credit that it is the purpose of the reds to take advantage of strikes to make money, to break law and authority and to spread revolution. Yet that is precisely what we have seen down in the furriers' strike in New York City and in the textile mill strikes in New Jersey and in many other strikes throughout the land, and in almost every one of them we have seen disloyalist organizations with an American name aiding and abetting the red leaders.

Frankly, we are ready to admit that soviet Russia and her advisers' friends in this and other lands have good reason to fear the "Peace Industry" movement, the profit-sharing system and the buying of stock into the stock holdings of corporations, for there can be no question but what they are thrust at the very heart of communism which can not thrive save amid industrial war and disorder. But that soviet Russia will be able to stem the trend toward economic sanity as presented by the "Peace in Industry" movements is a horse of an entirely different color.

It begins to look as though communists were doomed.

What Others Say

MEDIEVAL CHICAGO

Chicago finds it necessary to guard against bombing the homes of 400,000 citizens, chiefly politicians in or out of office. For this state of affairs, the great mass of Chicago politicians have their own share of responsibility to blame.

Today the baron of gangland has his way, or else he dynamites in defense of what he has come to believe is a vested right.

For need we be amazed that he believes he has a vested right to do as he pleases? In a city where political leaders make open alliance with thugs where coparties of high office deem it an honor—no, they have more than once—to forgo their own lives for the sake of a political leader, it is not surprising that the baron of gangland has come to think they own the town and all that is in it?

Kings in medieval Europe were continually getting themselves into the same predicament that now afflicts Chicago's politicians. Bullying the aid of wandering swordsmen for their own purposes, they later found it next to impossible to get rid of the blackguards, or to keep them from doing as they pleased.

Chicago, in the 20 years since the outbreak of its first "gangster" war, has permitted the slow growth of a criminal feudalism that Chicago now finds not only dangerous in the extreme, but most difficult of eradication as well. There are evidences, that the town, at last is becoming genuinely alarmed, and that the alarm is now shared by men who formerly cheered lightly into political alliances with the very villains who are making today's trouble.

Well, if Chicago's politicians do become sufficiently alarmed to undertake a thorough housecleaning, the present reign of terror will be worth several times its cost.—Minneapolis Journal.

BRITAIN AS TRADER

Having breached anew at Geneva further reduction of tonnage and shipment of capital ships, amid of the Washington treaty date for consideration of revision Great Britain is now reported to be making a deal with France over submarine tonnage to be limited to 1,000 tons, and to have the French agree never to attack a British ship with a submarine. The deal has not yet been closed, but its implications are significant.

If Great Britain can make a deal of this sort with France, why not a trade with the United States? Indeed, the traders persist in their efforts to vitiate the spirit of the Washington rapprochement, the essence of which was parity and equality. Their proposal that capital ship tonnage be cut from 35,000 to 10,000, and that 16-inch guns be reduced to 13.5, is coupled with a scheme to extend the life of the ships from 20 to 25 years and thus to deter replacement. That would destroy every American chance for parity, since Great Britain's two large new capital ships could not be considered by America.

If the British can afford to make a trade with France, suppose we could make a similar trade with America, likewise on equal terms. As a matter of fact they have made one. That is, they have what the Washington treaty implied—for what else is parity but equal terms? Why should not Great Britain live up to it?

Indeed, the British diplomats are raising suspicion and distrust. How can any American meet such an attitude by building its navy to parity?—Minneapolis Journal.

A FINE GESTURE

The Canadian government's decision to exchange diplomatic envoys with the government of France is a step which naturally and logically follows the exchange already made between Ottawa and Washington.

With the United States the dominion has relations of direct partnership to maintain, and it seems to have been primarily with a view to closer diplomatic connection with the American government that Canada first sought authority to send and receive diplomatic agents in its own name.

With France in view of geographical proximity, the people of Canada have the of a cultural and political character which they can be more sure than they could receive the everyday necessity of business and trade intercourse with the United States.

The substitution of Quebec province of French Canada generally, however, with pride that French Canadian culture and civilization to the rest of the world. Lawrence, in his book "The French in America," says that the French in America, in which they have been the best of friends in New Jersey and in many other states throughout the land, and in almost every one of them we have seen disloyalist organizations with an American name aiding and abetting the red leaders.

Frankly, we are ready to admit that soviet Russia and her advisers' friends in this and other lands have good reason to fear the "Peace Industry" movement, the profit-sharing system and the buying of stock into the stock holdings of corporations, for there can be no question but what they are thrust at the very heart of communism which can not thrive save amid industrial war and disorder. ## Small Demand for Horses

Automobiles, trucks and tractors are supplanting the horse to such an extent in Australia that the horses are being sold for next to nothing. At a recent horse sale at Farnworth, the highest prices paid were between $5 and $10 a head. One farmer shipped 20 horses, and after all charges including freight had been paid he received $187 in full. Had the auctioneer not received certain unloading and driving charges, the farmer would have owed him money.

Flag for Army Dead

Until recently the American colors were draped about a soldier's coffin, regardless of his rank, yet only an officer of the rank of major or higher was entitled to have his casket preceded by the regimental and national flags. The regulations now provide that all military funerals, without distinction of rank, the colors, when available, shall be displayed and be carried with the escort.

Serum From Little Piggies Rejuvenates Fading Beauty

By SHIRLEY KIRKE

International Illustrated News Staff Correspondent

"Pigs are pigs," but—Pigs—common, barnyard pigs—will give women of the future a face as smooth and beautiful as that of her flapper granddaughter.

Pigskin, the stuff footballs use, stands revealed by a German scientist, American director of the Wasserman Institute of Berlin, as the main ingredient of a newly-developed serum that he says will enable women to shed their years and their wrinkles.

Dr. Josef Franz Kapp, prominent in both German and American medical circles, and noted for years for his epochal experiments, is an erect, robust man of fifty-three, whose reassuring smile sets off the severity of his mustache.

"In a few years," he predicted, "it will be impossible to guess a woman's age by looking at her face."

"But don't be horrified," Dr. Kapp hastily added. "Everything, even beauty, has its lowly beginning. The results are sure to delight Madame."

First, the skin tissues of the pig are removed, thoroughly cleansed and cut into small pieces. These sections are run through a L'Abadie mill and distilled water and a small quantity of phenol added. The resulting serum is injected into the ear-vein of the rabbit.

After fourteen days the rabbit is killed and its blood withdrawn. When placed in a container, Dr. Kapp explained, the clear liquid which rises to the top is withdrawn. And this liquid is the youth giving mixture.

DR. JOSEF FRANZ KAPP
(Quadruplicate—New York)

"Strangely enough," said the scientist, "the older the woman, the more noticeable the improvement. Several women looked twenty years younger after receiving treatments."

The new "youth serum" treatments require six to eight weeks, he said. Sometimes the effect lasts several years, in other cases the treatment must be repeated in a year if Madame wishes to retain her youthful appearance.

Dr. Kapp said that the serum is not a cosmetic, but a medicine. It is not a skin cream, but a blood purifier. It is not a skin cream, but a blood purifier. It is not a skin cream, but a blood purifier.

WELFARE OF RACE PROBLEM OF UNITS

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D., United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City

My old friend, Dr. John Harvey Kellogg of Battle Creek, is one of our most prolific writers on medical subjects of popular interest. We often disagree mildly on food matters, but no one can question the good his teachings have done.

I fully endorse this statement from Dr. Kellogg's pen: "We apply science to everything but our own personal habits. The place where we should begin."

Society starts with the individual. An epidemic starts from the individual. The physical welfare of a people is after all nothing but the added health of a multitude of individuals.

We place where we must begin, if we would make any successful application of science to the improvement of mankind, is with the personal habits of each individual unit. Upon the individual rests the responsibility for his own physical welfare and after that, for the welfare of the race.

The place to apply the world of knowledge in scientific progress, is to our own needs. Charity begins at home, it is said. So does health. Wonderful progress has been made in the field of science. We know what kinds of food are good for the human family. We know what quantities of protein, fat, starch and sugar should be eaten by each of us. We know the dangers of overeating. We realize the wisdom of under-eating. Yet, too frequently, alas, we fail to apply to our own lives the rules which we loudly proclaim as the correct standards of health. We apply science everywhere except to our own habits.

Perhaps you are too old to learn any new habits. Indeed, if you can no longer learn something new, you have become old. When your habits are inflexible you are fossilized.

Of course, if your habits were good ones when they became fossilized, you are lucky. But if they became fixed before they had time to be made good, you are out of luck.

You should attempt to make your daily practices in bathing, clothing, eating, drinking, breathing, exercise and sleep, conform to the scientific standards. These standards have been pretty well fixed. You can find out what they are. Then, if you are wise and far-seeing, you will govern your life accordingly.

Get wisdom, get understanding, get knowledge. Apply your scientific knowledge to your own habits. That is the place to begin. By beginning here, you will order your own life as it should be. Then you will be an example to your children. Your family will practice the rules of health. The reputation of your household for proper living will travel abroad. In this way the practice of health will spread throughout society.

But let us begin at home to observe common sense in health matters.

Find Canoe Belonging to Age of Bronze

A boat, tied to its landing wharf for 3,000 years, has been found buried under six feet of peat in an ancient bog in upper Suedia, according to Dr. Oscar Paret, a Stuttgart archaeologist. It is a dugout canoe, about fifteen feet long, four feet wide, and made of a single piece of oak. The sides, Dr. Paret says, were shaved down to a surprising thinness. Several paddles were found in it. A number of earthen vessels and bronze objects found in the bog around it date the boat as of the Bronze age, about 1000 B. C., contemporary with the siege of Troy and the reign of Solomon in Jerusalem.

The boat was found at the end of one of three long wharves which ran back to the vicinity of the remains of a number of houses. Apparently there was once a village on the edge of the bog, on solid ground separated from the open water of the lake by a wide marshy margin, which could be crossed only by these causeways. When the village site was abandoned, the vegetation in the bog and the lake continued to grow until the lake disappeared and the piling up of the dead leaves and stems buried all the works of the ancient men who lived there and used to go fishing in their dugout canoes.

Ephrata, Pa.—Public school pupils are forbidden to dance, to play baseball and football. In the opinion of the board of education athletic energy undirected prematurely and a graduation dance last year was conducted improperly.

Those whose birthday it is may prepare for a year of advantages and growth in many directions. But be prepared for delays, obstructions may be disposed of, and with good management excellent returns are assured with promotion and ultimate prosperity.

A child born on this day will be excellently endowed for success and advancement in life, but these may be attained through perseverance and steadfastness to the aims in view. Diligence and effort win final reward.

WORLD BIDDERS FOR MASTERS AT CHRISTIE'S SALE

Works Collected by Sir John Holford To Go Under Hammer

London, April 9.—Representatives of 19 countries are expected to attend Christie's famous sale of masterpieces here next May, when nearly 200 old masters, the property of Sir John Holford, come under the hammer.

Conceded by experts to be the picture sale of the year, the collection includes many works by Van Dyck, Rubens, Rembrandt, Velasquez, and others.

The sale has been rendered necessary by the sale of Dorchester House, Sir John's famous London mansion to a syndicate. It will extend over two days, and arrangements are being made for a record crowd.

When the earliest section of the collection, chiefly Italian old masters, was disposed of last year a sum of $885,000 was realized. At the forthcoming sale this figure is expected easily to be eclipsed.

Fashions Fluctuate
"It is almost impossible to put a figure on such a collection as this in advance," said a representative of Christie's to International News Service. "Fashions in buying pictures fluctuate, and individual artists have ups and downs that none can explain."

"There are important masterpieces in the collection of the Flemish and Dutch schools, and many pictures that rank very high in the Spanish, French and British schools."

In the main the pictures were collected by Sir George Holford, the present owner's father. All the Rembrandts are portraits, one painted as early as 1632. A really great Van Dyck—a portrait of the Abbe Scaglia—may set up a fresh record for this artist's works.

By Rubens there are "The Elevation of the Cross" and the Martyrdom of Saint Paul. In the former Pilate is seen astride a white charger giving orders, while eight men are struggling to lift the Cross. Three delicate works by Ardaen van Ostad, one a wonderful cottage interior and another scene outside a village inn, have been in English collections for hundreds of years.

Much Speculation
There is much speculation as to how much the full-length portrait of Philip IV of Spain, by Velasquez, will realize. Less than 80 years ago the picture changed hands at $1,100. "Dordrecht on the Maas," a work by the great Dutch painter Albert Cuyp, in 1841, the last time it changed hands, it realized over $5,000.

In the British school, which will be disposed of on the second day, there is a work by Hogarth, Sir Edward Burne-Jones, Francis Croft, Sir T. Lawrence, and Sir Godfrey Kneller are other famous artists represented by one or more works.

ROAD PROGRAM FOR MAHONING

More Than Million To Be Spent on Road Improvements This Year

Youngstown, April 9.—More than $1,000,000 will be spent on new roads, repairing of old roads and maintenance on present highways during the coming summer in Mahoning county, County Engineer George Montgomery announced today.

Of this amount $300,000 will be spent on state highways. Another $350,000 will be spent on county roads and $200,000 in maintenance work, Montgomery said.

The state pays 50 per cent on all road work done on highways bearing state numbers, he says.

Work has already begun in a small way, according to the county engineer. Within the next few weeks, work will be in progress in all parts of the county where improvements are to be made.

Will Pave Nine Miles

The Salem Warren rd., known as state route 516, will be the longest stretch of highway built in the county in 1928 and will extend from a distance of nine miles, where the road crosses Mahoning county between Salem and Warren. The contract for this improvement has not been awarded but the bids will specify either concrete or bituminous construction.

Other state highways to be improved include:

State route 323, Canfield-Niles rd., 2 1/2 miles between Canfield and Atintown twps., either concrete or bituminous.

State route 534, Canfield-Columbiana rd., 2 1/2 miles from the Canfield fairgrounds south, to be widened, surfaced and rebuilt.

State route 18, Youngstown-Akron rd., 1 mile west from Perkins corner, widened to 34 feet and brick paving.

Big County Program

This work will give the county total of 18 1/2 miles of improved state highways with in its borders.

The county road work calls for 1 1/2 miles of new macadam highway on the Shields Turnpike rd. between Meadlan ave. and Raccoon rd.; 2 1/2 miles of new macadam highway on the Mahoning Turnpike rd. county line east from Mineral Ridge; 2 1/2 miles of new macadam highway from Woodworth southeast to state route 502, known as the Woodworth-New Springfield highway.

In addition to this six miles of new macadam highway, 10 miles of county roads will be resurfaced and 14 miles will be given secondary treatment which consists of granulated slag.

BORDER PATROL GAUNTLET SET

Customs Chief Ready To Make It Warm For Rum Smugglers

Cleveland, April 9.—Smugglers, particularly liquor runners will find it difficult this summer to run the gauntlet of the border patrol on the Great Lakes, it was revealed here with the return of Robert Burri, head of the border patrol with headquarters in Cleveland from Washington. Burri's several recommendations for the improvement of the border patrol was approved by the government after Burri and Arthur P. Fenton, customs collector for the Cleveland district, conferred with Frank J. Lewis, assistant United States commissioner of customs.

Border patrol members after July 1 will be divorced from all prohibition enforcement agencies and will become custom agents, with enforcement agencies, with enforcement of all smuggling laws, such as rum running, particularly of course, rum running, according to Burri.

The innovation on the Great Lakes by the patrol as recommended by Burri is:

Sub patrol stations to be established at Erie and Toledo, these stations to begin operations May 1. One speedboat, one cruiser and two automobiles will be stationed regularly for use at each patrol or sub-patrol station for use in chasing rum runners.

Sixty coast guard boats will be put on duty on Lake Erie alone; and Burri was assured that coast guards would co-operate with his border patrol men.

Coast guard seizures will be turned over to the customs collector.

Customs agents and border patrolmen will have authority to board any boat and seize contraband material in addition to prohibited liquor.

"Lost Chord" Dear to Heart of Composer

Arthur Sullivan sketched out the complete setting of "The Lost Chord" while he sat by the deathbed of his brother, Frederic. It was his last composition for many months. The song, when published, swept the world, and the inevitable penalty of popularity followed—it was parodied, to Sullivan's disgust. He wrote to the publisher:

"I wrote 'The Lost Chord' in sorrow at my brother Fred's death. Don't burlesque it."

Sullivan gave one of his manuscript copies of "The Lost Chord"—those scribbled notes that had come from the death of his suffering brother—to his lifelong friend, Mrs. Ronalds, a famous American hostess living in London. She was a very gifted amateur singer and Sullivan openly admitted that she alone brought tears to his eyes with his own notes. Mrs. Ronalds' rendition of "The Lost Chord" was famous. King Edward—then prince of Wales—once remarked that he would travel the length of his future kingdom to hear Mrs. Ronalds sing "The Lost Chord."

When she passed on the manuscript with her instructions, buried with her, Kansas City Star.

Once, at a Cincinnati tea, a clergyman praised Mrs. Emery for the pension she had bestowed on an aged novelist.

"Oh, well," she said in answer, "art is long, but artists are always short."

WHEN PROMOTERS USE "CHARITY" TO DECOY TRUSTFUL CONTRIBUTORS

Investigations of Various Schemes for Defrauding Public Out of Money Disclosed by Bankers Association—Many Kinds of Fake Industrial Promotions Used as Bait.

By W. R. MOREHOUSE
Public Relations Commission, American Bankers Association

MILLIONS of dollars raised under the disguise of sales on raffie are commonly used, and while the loss to any one person who buys a ticket is small the aggregate loss for the United States runs into millions of dollars. Usually the promoters of these schemes first make a contract with some charitable institution to conduct a campaign for funds on behalf of the institution. They are to run the campaign in the name of the institution and share the proceeds. The whole scheme is often one of deception. To those who have been led to believe that their contributions go practically 100 per cent to charity, the following case we investigated should prove illuminating.

A number of promoters recently contracted with a charitable institution to put on a campaign to raise funds by the raffie of a new automobile. So far as the public could tell from the banners used in displaying the automobile, the full amount of the sale price of the tickets went to the institution. There was nothing to convey any other impression. Apparently it was open and above board and was being conducted by men who were contributing their time gratuitously.

For several days a new automobile mounted on a truck, was driven up and down the streets, with banners telling about the drive for funds for the charitable institution. One day the truck would go by displaying one of the popular makes of automobiles. A few days later it would parade by displaying some other popular make. Periodically the truck would pull into the curb where it would park for several hours while the promoters pleaded with passers-by to take tickets on the raffie and thereby help a deserving charitable institution to meet its bills.

Thousands "Touched" by the appeal for help, bought tickets, the total sale running into the thousands of dollars. Contrary to the belief of the ticket buyers their contributions did not go 100 per cent to charity. Instead the charitable institution received but 26 cents on the dollar, the promoters getting 52 cents on the dollar as their net profit, or twice the amount received by charity, while the remainder of 22 cents on each dollar represented the amount charged against gross sales by the promoters as expenses.

In other words, every person who bought a 50 cent ticket for the sake of charity, contributed but 13 cents to charity and 37 cents to those promoting the scheme. Whether you give to charity or make an investment it will pay you to get the facts!

Unfortunately there is a general impression abroad that wildcat promotions are confined to oil, mining and new inventions. The truth is, many stock selling promotions are operated under the name of other industries.

False Claims
A certain group of promoters investigated offered for sale stock in a proposed woolen mill. In order to sell the stock they resorted to the use of misrepresentation and false claims. After renting space on the ground floor of an office building fronting on a busy street they began their campaign. Orally and by printed advertisements extravagant claims were made for were these two promoters had not been connected with any mills for over twenty years and they had attempted at different times to promote mills, all of which had failed. One of the promoters represented that formerly he was president and general manager of one of the largest woolen mills in Canada. The fact was the mill referred to had gone into bankruptcy and he had been caretaker of the plant.

This story of misrepresentation can be duplicated in practically the whole industrial field, and because our industries are being exploited with intent to defraud, it behooves every investor to investigate carefully. He should consult his banker before drawing his savings out and losing them on some wildcat investment.

A Fashion Model's Diary

By Grace Thorncliffe
She Describes One of the Latest Sport Dresses.

YESTERDAY I succumbed and bought one of our new dresses. I knew it was just a matter of time and when a special occasion came along necessitating the purchase of a new dress I merely bowed to the inevitable.

When I was young and charming as Messrs. Gilbert and Sullivan have it, I used to be one of the regular recruits for West Point events.

I used to attend all their events with Brad Evans, whose cousin is a first-year man now and when Brad wrote me that his kid cousin would look me up I rather hoped that I was in for a tad to something.

The "something" turned out to be a bid for the week-end of the track meet. Of course I'll be going with a perfect infant, but it will be fun to go up and see that the Army's being run all right.

I have my black taffeta for the hop, but nothing suitable for the athletic events. Hence the purchase of the green flanne.

I had been looking at it rather anxiously for days. It is a two-piece sport dress of palest green. The blouse is very new, a diagonal, scalloped arrangement of three shades of green—terribly good-looking. The same idea is carried out on the sleeves.

I found an adorable hat to go with it—feet of the deepest shade of green found in the blouse, with an under-facing of beige. I have only to buy a green suede purse to make the costume complete.

A gray fox would be nice with it, but my wardrobe does not boast of such. There's a decided swinging note in this, the way from the new ones of just over to old shapes particularly.

SOUTHERN OHIO FRUIT DAMAGED

But Northern Crops May Have Escaped Effect Of Winter Winds

Columbus, April 9.—While the sub freezing weather of the Easter weekend is expected to have had no ill effects on crops of any kind in northern Ohio agriculture and weather statisticians today reported that they believed early blossoming fruit of southern Ohio would feel the effects of the sudden drop.

The coldest temperature of the state was reported this morning at Lima where the thermometer registered 24. In the western part of the state the temperature ranged from 26 at Toledo to 25 at Napoleon; 26 at Sidney; 28 at Dayton, and 28 at Cincinnati.

At northern Ohio points the temperature reported this morning, was generally about 26. ### SEVEN ARRESTED IN KIDNAP PLOT

Round Up Gang Planning To Hold Wealthy Men For Huge Ransoms

Chicago, April 9.—A gigantic plot to kidnap a score of wealthy Chicagoans and hold them for ransoms totalling $1,000,000, today was declared "nipped in the bud" with the roundup of the gang who kidnaped Thomas Gaynor, wealthy Chicago automobile dealer and hotel owner.

Seven men are under arrest for the kidnaping of Gaynor. An eighth is being sought. Two of the men were captured at the cottage as they stood guard over their wealthy victim.

Confronted with evidence, three of the prisoners admitted the wholesale kidnaping plot, according to Deputy Police Commissioner O'Connor.

RAILROADS LEAD

New York, April 9.—The railroad, steel and motor stocks were the leaders in a moderate rally in the stock market at the opening of the market today. General Motors sold up at 195 for a block of 7,000 shares; Chrysler was up 1/2 at 70 and Hupp up 1/2 at 54 1/2. U. S. Steel gained about a point at 148. Bethlehem and crucible sold fractionally higher; Greene Cananea Copper was up 1 point at 133 1/2.

Radio up 1/2 at 183 1/2. Kansas City Southern led the rails, with a gain of 1/2 at 58 1/2; Pittsburgh and West Virginia, Union Pacific and St. Louis Southwestern sold fractionally higher.

The industrial stocks and the specialties pushed aggressively forward in the early trading today, promptly resuming the forward movement temporarily side-tracked by the triple holiday over Easter Sunday.

Stocks of the New York City transit companies jumped 2 to 8 points in the first period, signifying Wall street's belief in a victory for the Interboro and Brooklyn Manhattan Transit companies in their fight for a 7-cent fare. Interboro sold today at 5, up 7 1/2 points over the week-end and 18 points above the low of last week. Traction bonds of the same companies rose brilliantly.

Anaconda Copper jumped 4 1/2 points to 71 on its first sale of a block of 33,000 shares. American Smelting and other prominent copper stocks moved forward aggressively on the firmer market for the red metal.

The metal markets reported increased buying both for home and foreign consumption, and a firmer tone was noted in the textile markets. Crude Rubber slumped off nearly a cent a pound, bringing the price for all positions close to 19 cents a pound another new low record. Call money loaned at 5 1/2 per cent.

The tape ran about 13 minutes behind the market in the first hour, and General Motors was currently reported selling at 194 1/2, while actual sales were being made on the floor of the exchange at 196 1/2.

Radio Corporation was kept in the background, while Schulte Stores and Anaconda Copper raced ahead under full momentum, and various low priced specialties like Klevina and American Zinc found their way to the front. Pittsburgh and West Virginia, at the head of the "merger rails," jumped an additional 7 points to 160, where the stock sold 35 points above the low of last week.

Schulte advanced 4 points to above 66, completing a gain of 12 points since Wednesday. Klevina rose in active trading to around 22, about double its low price of last month. Atlantic Refining was a good leader in the oils, though Pan American and Marland were well bought at the best prices of the current move.

Stock sales in the first hour aggregated 1,000,000 shares, with trading well diversified over a wide range of railroad, motor, industrial and specialty stocks.

2 DEAD, 2 NEAR DEATH, RESULT OF GUN BATTLE

Deputy Sheriff Is Slain And Wounded Officer Kills Murderer

OFFICER, VICTIM ARE NEAR DEATH

Slab Run Man Refused To Furnish Whiskey And Fight Started

Portsmouth, O., April 9.—Two men are dead and two others are reported near death in hospitals here today as the result of a gun battle between deputy sheriffs and two men at Slab Run, near here last night.

Henry Bending, 31, a deputy sheriff, was shot through the head and killed instantly. Gardner Vencil, 27, was shot in the abdomen and died in a hospital this morning. Alvin Higgins is also in a hospital with serious knife wounds and Green Willis, 47, a deputy, has a bullet wound in the neck which is expected to prove fatal.

William Burton, 19, started in the leg, was remanded to the county jail today, charged with murder.

Vencil and Burton were said to have encountered Higgins at a filling station just outside of the city last evening. An altercation began, according to reports, when Vencil asked Higgins to get him some whiskey.

Vencil was known as a "tough character" and had killed two men previously, according to police. When Higgins refused to go for whiskey he and Burton drew knives and cut him seriously, according to reports.

The fight continued. Higgins attempting to escape, and the other two following him until they had reached Slab Run, a small ravine a short distance further down the road, spectators said.

By this time a call had been sent to the sheriff's office and the county car, occupied by deputies Bending and Willis, and police Captain Lee Startzman, and William Burns, a newspaper reporter, arrived a few minutes later.

Both drew guns. Bending was driving. He stopped the machine. Willis stepped out, and shouted to the men that they were under arrest. Vencil and Burton both drew pistols, according to reports, and began shooting.

The first shot struck Willis' jaw and penetrated the back of his neck. He dropped to the ground and another bullet hit Bending. He slumped over the steering wheel, dead. Willis, though seriously wounded, returned the fire as he lay on the ground and Startzman also began shooting from the automobile.

Vencil and Burton were finally subdued after both had been wounded. Vencil fatally. Startzman and Burns were uninjured. Deputy Bending who was killed, had been married only a few months ago.

GIRL WINNERS OF "FELLOWSHIPS"

Burning the midnight oil really does pay! Here are four Bryn Mawr students who will study in Europe as result of fellowship awards. Left to right they are: Miss Dorothy Walsh of Vancouver, B. C.; Miss

At War On Prohibition

THE LONG-RANGE debate between Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York (left) and William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, continues, with the latter declaring the one fundamental issue to be: "Shall a State be permitted to disregard any portion of the Constitution which it elects not to obey?" The Governor had asserted the Volstead Act was a part of the laws of New York State, and no further enforcement laws were necessary there. Said Mr. McAdoo: "Police enforcement is the principle and normal function of the State Governments. Deprived of the effective co-operation of the police of the States, the Amendment becomes a nullity. This is what happened in New York and Maryland."

"JAZZ" COURT MARTIAL HALF OVER

All because a British admiral in the Mediterranean wanted the band of H. M. S. Royal Oak to play for a dance, and officers of the ship declined permission, Commander H. L. Daniel (right) was dismissed from his ship by a court martial in Gibraltar. Captain K. C. B. Dewar (left), former commander of the warship, is on trial on similar charges of committing an act prejudicial to discipline.

TWO TYPES OF NEWEST HATS

Carillon Playing at Its Best in Belgium

Belgium is the classic land of bells. To the Belgians belong the honor of having first felt and used bell tones as truly musical sounds, and, accordingly, they devised that colossal musical instrument and tower and belfry known as the carillon. The carillon is a set of from 15 to 30 or more bells, cast in sizes that sound each its own scale tone. This battery of bells is played from a keyboard placed in a room below the open of latticed belfry, by a carillonneur, as the French call him, Dr. Henry Farnes, president of the Society of American Musicians, writes, in Child Life Magazine. The keyboard is not unlike an electric switchboard, with its handles replacing the keys on an ordinary piano keyboard, and another set of pedal keys, like that on a pipe organ, to be played upon by the player's feet. This carillon keyboard stands today practically the same as it did in the sixteenth century, when the most famous of all bell-casting and carillon-playing families—the Van den Gheyns of Belgium—brought the art of belfry playing to its highest point. The Antwerp cathedral carillon has 65 bells. St. Rombold's singing tower in Maastricht has 41. Bruges 41, Ghent 39 and Louvain 40.

Paris—What price the eyes of a poetess? The fifth chamber of Paris civil court has put their value at $10,000. This sum was granted to Mademoiselle Miller-Verfly, Rumanian poetess and literary collaborator of Queen Marie as damages for injuries sustained in a motor accident nearly six years ago. Mademoiselle Miller-Verfly has become nearly blind and unable to continue her writing.

FRENCH MODES IN KASHIR

Quite apart from anything idiosyncratic about Paris, the chic and distinction of the French and their modes picture here. Kashir is used for the development of both frocks, the model to the left consisting of a two-piece skirt and a blouse with a shaped opening in front. Plain taffeta is used for the skirt, while pockets from the wide band attached to the front of the blouse under the narrow belt. Medium size requires 2 1/2 yards 54-inch material with 1/2 yard taffeta. A trim note is introduced in the second frock by a pointed yoke of self-material, which is slanted at the center of the front and a box slanted through the slashes. Plats contribute width to the lower front, while preserving the shoulder line of the design. Medium size requires 1 1/2 yard 54-inch material.

First Model: Pictorial Review, Printed Pattern No. 4185. Size 14 to 18 years and 34 to 44 bust. 45 cents. Second Model: Printed Pattern No. 4084. Sizes 8 to 16 years. 35 cents. Embroidery No. 13101, blue or yellow transfer, 40 cents.

Lord Birkenhead's Opinion of Women Writers Not High

London, April 9.—Women are inferior to men in the realm of literature, in the opinion of Lord Birkenhead, secretary of state for India in the present British government and himself a writer of no mean ability. Addressing the Author's club here, he maintained that, although there had always been more women in history than men in the world, few women in history had ever attained to great literary distinctions.

"There have been many women writers of great distinction, but not in any way comparable to men writers of distinction," he said. "Women have no position in literature. If you consider that the world has existed for ten million years at least, it is reasonable to suppose that the contributions of women to literature would have been equal to that from men. They have not."

"A defense may be found in the defects of education, but to that defense I give no support. In the last 300 years, women authors have not held their own with male authors. I am astonished not by the numbers of women writers who have attained no great distinction—I am astonished by the very small number of those who, in the highest competition of all, have attained to the degree of distinction which is essential to a considerable and permanent place in history."

"It is surprising there should be so few women poets, because women are less material than men, and because things spiritual and beautiful appeal to them more than to men. Is the explanation a sex complex?"

HEENEY CHANGES HIS TUNE AFTER VISIT TO PARIS

Wants To Flatten Tunney Now After Whirl At Elysees Pool

By DAVIS J. WALSH
New York, April 9.—According to confidential advisers from the scene of action, Tom Heenev, the willing opponent, has been having a very enjoyable visit in Paris since the news became rampant that he had been named as Brother Tunney's man for the next public demonstration in heavy-weight circles.

I don't know as a matter of fact, whether Heenev still is in Paris or has returned to England but, in my general uncertainty on this point, I am not altogether different from the Parisians themselves. They have experienced a certain amount of difficulty in seeing a great deal of the young man.

Heenev got quite a break when they told him he was to go in there for an eighth of a million and the exclusive rights to Brother Tunney's fist full of knuckles. In this case, one break led to another, for it seems that Heenev was headed for Paris when the news came. If he hadn't been very careful about it, the news might have arrived while he was on his way to East Orange.

Not Backward Any More
Anyhow, the tidings in question naturally left him feeling somewhat jocular and, from what I have been able to gather, nothing has happened in Paris to alter the situation. The young man still was far from repressed when last heard from. He was dispersing himself in a very chic swimming pool somewhere on or near the Champs Elysees to the accompaniment of admiring cries of "tres jolie" from the populace.

Previous to that occasion, the correspondents had succeeded in running a dead heat with Mr. Heenev only at isolated and very temporary junctures. In brief, they found many difficulties at all times but Mr. Heenev very seldom.

I note with pained incredulity, too, that the tenor of Thomas' remarks has altered.

"I'm not much of a fighter, but what of it?" he seemed to imply, and while you agreed with him on both points, you admired his finger nails and the way he did his hair or something. Anyhow, you felt that a man who talked about himself in that sotto voce manner ought to be stood back from and admired at regular intervals.

But now my faith is ravished. Thomas has chucked the charming role of modesty and is talking like a chief second. If the advice is to be believed, he has declared for "flattening Tunney" and even has promised to give every deserving candidate a shot at the title when he is champion.

ASHLAND, KY. IS CAGE CHAMPION
Chicago, April 9.—In marked contrast to the excitement of the past week when 40 prep teams from all over the United States were contesting for the interscholastic basketball championship of the nation, the campus of the University of Chicago today looked like the "deserted village."

The happy quintet from Ashland, Ky., who triumphed over Canton, Ill., 15 to 10, in the final game of the tourney, were given a rousing send off when they left for the Blue Grass state.

Kentucky, with its two great entries—Carr Creek and Ashland—justly deserved the rich reward.

Grandfords, N. D., beat out Vienna, 27 to 25 for third place, second place of course going to Canton, Ill.

Wheeling, W. Va., won the consolation final, defeating Naugatuck, Conn., 29 to 28.

Training Camp Notes
Cleveland, April 9.—With the temperature hovering around 30 above and snow in the air, it was doubtful whether the Cleveland Indians would go through with a scheduled workout on their home lot here today following their arrival from Cincinnati. The tribe dropped Sunday's exhibition game to the Reds 5-7.

Tomorrow the team leaves for Chicago, where it opens the American League season Wednesday with the White Sox.

Kansas City, Mo., April 9.—It was "just another workout" for the Cubs beating the Kansas City Blues here in an Easter day special, 13 to 4.

Indianapolis, April 9.—Cold weather kept the White Sox from playing their Easter exhibition game against the American Association Indians.

New York, April 9.—Supporters of the New York Yankees are convinced today that the home run twins, Ruth and Gehrig, have regained the ability to sock homers. They saw Babe and Buster deliver circuit-clouts which beat the Brooklyn Robins yesterday, 7 to 3. Dugan of the Yanks and Max Carey of the Robins also hit for four bases. The series, now deadlocked, will be resumed in Brooklyn today.

Breaks Record For 20 Mile Race But May Not Get Credit

New York, April 9.—Although he broke the world's record for 20 miles in winning the Staten Island American Legion marathon yesterday, Albert (Whitey) Michelson probably will not receive official credit for a new record because championship conditions were not met in the race. His time was 1:51:02, more than seven minutes under the record.

POSTPONE HIGH SCHOOL MEET

The outdoor interclass track meet will not be held Tuesday, but may be held Wednesday or Thursday afternoons, it was announced today at Salem High school.

The day for the meet will be decided upon Tuesday, if possible, depending on the condition of the track.

HOPPE IS ONLY ONE UNDEFEATED IN CUE TOURNEY

Chicago, April 9.—Willie Hoppe of New York today remained the sole undefeated player in the national three-cushion billiard tournament here.

Hoppe went into the lead, with four victories and no defeats, when Len Kenney of Chicago checked the winning streak of Johnny Layton of St. Louis at four straight. Kenney yesterday upset Layton, 50 to 47, in 61 innings.

Otto Reisel of Philadelphia, defending champion, suffered his second defeat of the tourney when Gus Cepullos of Detroit handed him a severe drubbing in 46 innings. The score was 50 to 26.

Art Thurnblad of Chicago was Hoppe's fourth victim. It took the old master 60 innings to turn the trick and the score was 50 to 33. In the other match of the day, Earl Lockabaugh defeated Cowboy Weston 50 to 35, in 64 innings.

TILDEN LEADS AMERICAN CUP TEAM ON TOUR

Mexico City, Mexico, April 9.—The United States Davis cup team with a clean sweep over the Mexican net team, left here this morning bound for San Antonio, where they will start a series of exhibitions. Led by Captain Bill Tilden, the Americans made their stay here a complete success by winning the final two matches of the five-match affair and eliminating the Mexicans for another year.

Johnny Hennessy, Indianapolis, and Wilmer Allison, intercollegiate star, made the invaders' triumph complete by trouncing Robert Kinsey, captain of the Mexican team, and Alfonso Unda.

The match between Kinsey and Hennessy had been looked on as the best chance of a Mexican victory, but Kinsey was soundly beaten by the young American in three straight sets, 6-2, 6-0, 6-2.

It took Allison four sets to beat Unda, 4-6, 6-3, 8-6, 7-5.

Record Low Price For N. Y. Title Bout

New York, April 9.—Tickets for a championship prize fight at one, two and three dollars a head.

That is not the pipe dream of a New York boxing fan, but the scale of prices which will prevail at the St. Nicholas arena here tonight when Corporal Izzy Schwartz, world's flyweight champion in New York state, takes on Roulter Parra in a 15-round bout. The prices are the lowest ever charged in New York for a championship fight.

Money Not Everything; Starts College Career

YOUNG people with money are finding that there are better things in life.

Raymond J. Koger, who has piled up a quarter of a million dollars in the twenty-seven years he has been on earth, said he preferred education.

So he is going to quit making money for a while and spend six years at Harvard to get what he would rather have.

Koger lives with his wife and two children at Bridgeport, Conn., where he made his fortune in the last seven years in the investment banking business.

Koger went to work at the age of ten in a grocery store and held various jobs to get experience until 1920. Then he took a $30-a-week position with an investment banker.

Koger, of his boyhood, said: "There were six of us children. My father worked in a textile mill in Housatonic, Mass., making bed spreads. I went to work at the age of ten in a grocery store and stayed there till I was seventeen and then ran away.

"My father came after me at Springfield. He urged me to go home, but I said: 'I will never go home as long as you stay in that little town weaving bedspreads. I won't go back unless you move to a city where I will have a chance.'

AUTO CLUBS OF STATE TO MEET

Association Sessions To Be Held Thursday And Friday

Many problems of interest to motorists in the state, will be considered and worked out at the annual roundup of secretaries and presidents of the 83 automobile clubs affiliated with the Ohio State Automobile association that will be held at the Southern hotel, in Columbus, April 12 and 13.

The gathering will bring together not only the club officers mentioned but there will also be in attendance representatives of the American Automobile association from the national headquarters in Washington, D. C.

The conference will be of unusual importance, as the theme of the two day sessions coming on the eve of what is expected to be the heaviest season of motoring in history, will be increased service to club members as well as improved service along the various lines now being extended.

With the unusual increase in the number of motor vehicles on the highways, the problems of automobile clubs increase proportionately and it is for the purpose of keeping pace with these that these annual conferences are held. They are also for the purpose of devising ways and means of enlisting the interest of thousands of motorists not already members of an automobile club, that they too may become affiliated and receive the many benefits that clubs affiliated with the state association are offering.

The Conference will in many respects resolve itself into an open forum in which every club representative present will be afforded opportunity to be heard, and to give fellow club officials the benefit of his experience. Much valuable information gathered by the American Automobile Association will be presented by its representatives in attendance.

A. E. Mittendorf, secretary of the Cincinnati Automobile club and president of the Ohio State Automobile association will preside at the first day's sessions, and R. B. Crawford, secretary of the Massillon Automobile club, and vice president of the state organization, will preside over the deliberations on the second day.

MOVIES

"CAMILLE"
Norma Talmadge in the title role of her unique, modern version of "Camille," the famous romance of Alexandre Dumas, the younger, is the treat in store for the patrons of the State tonight.

The story of the screen "Camille" while following closely the theme and spirit of the classical romance is visualized in settings of the present day. The "Lady of the Camellias," most celebrated of all the Parisian demi-mondaines, is interpreted by Miss Talmadge as a captivating, brilliantly gowned, bobbed hair heartbreaker of the present generation.

Desiring to make "Camille" one of the outstanding triumphs in Norma's career, Joseph M. Schenck who produced the picture for First National release, recruited a notable cast for the modern picturization of the Dumas classic and assigned Fred Niblo as director.

Gilbert Roland, a young Spanish actor who recently was placed under a long-term contract by the Schenck organization, appears as "Armand," the impetuous young lover of "Camille." Lillian Tashman and Rose Dione have important roles as "Olympia" and "Prudence" respectively. Portraying the various wealthy and titled admirers of the "Lady of the Camellias," Harvey Clark is cast as "The Baron" and Alec Francis as "The Duke." Other supporting players are Helen Jerome Eddy, Albert Conti, Michael Visconti, Evelyn Selbie and Eula Lee.

"SQUARE CROOKS"

"Square Crooks," described as an American comedy drama of the underworld, will be shown at the Grand tonight. There is abundant comedy, with many tense situations which give it variety.

The story is about two former crooks, Eddie Ellison and Larry Scott, both of whom are trying to go straight. It is no fault of theirs that a dying friend of Larry's steals a diamond necklace and begs Larry to dispose of it and send the proceeds to his wife and family.

Suspicion falls on the boys, as they have been discharged a day before the robbery. Complications set it when the jewels again are stolen by Mike Ross, a crook wanted for murder. The manner in which they unravel the mystery and capture Ross form the basis for a thrilling and emotional comedy drama.

There is an excellent cast, with Robert Armstrong as Eddie Ellison; Dorothy Appleby as Kay Ellison, his wife; Dorothy Dwan, cute and vivacious as Jane Brown, in love with Johnny Mack, who enacts the role of the other crook. Others in the cast include Eddie Sturgis, Clarence Burton, Lydia Dickson and Jackie Combs.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, April 9.—The return of taffeta into full fashion leads one to think that all women will be rustling into church this season. For the new variety is really the old one our great grandmothers used to wear, the very crisp and stand-up-alone kind.

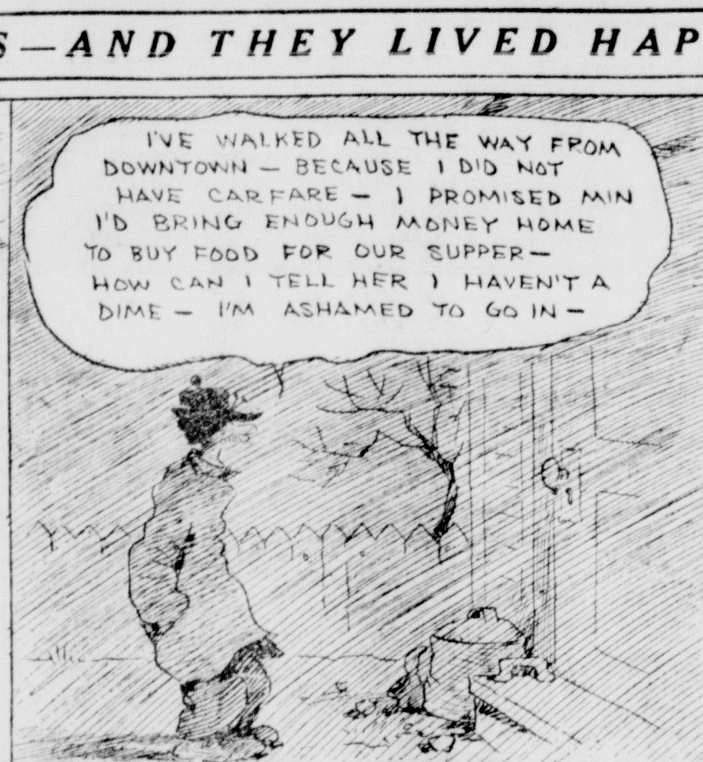

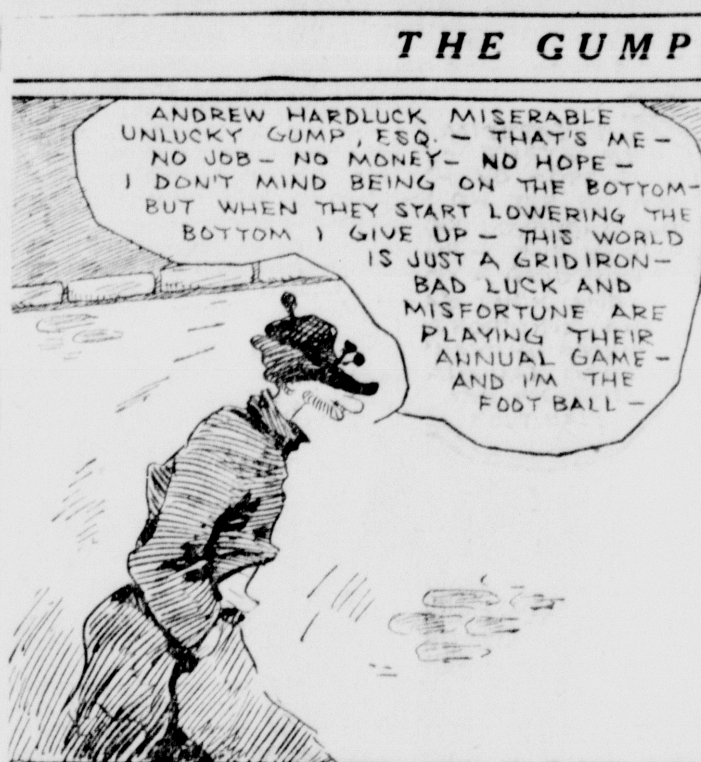

Taffeta comes for morning, noon and night wear. Black taffeta is good for town wear and there are some delightful tailor-mades in navy-blue, the skirt cut slightly in form, the coat short and semi-fitting with a long scarf collar which ties in a bow. Under it is a white lingerie blouse with embroidery and full down the front. Afternoon gowns of taffeta often have short capes which tie in the front with long scarf ends. Some have gathered yokes on the shoulders and sharply scalloped hems; others are flatly flounced. Sleeves may be long or to the elbow with frills and there are often fichus or gilets of organdie, net or ocher lace.

Aquamarine blue taffeta is combined with lace to make a charming afternoon model which has one of the deep transparent hemlines. The bodice is made of the taffeta with the sleeves of lace encrusted with silver, as well as the gathered skirt reaching to the ankles, worn over a short one of blue taffeta.

Taffeta for evening is usually in clear shades of pink, yellow, green and white. A pale green with a sheen of silver has a long straight bodice fitted only at the waistline. Small sleeves of the taffeta are covered with rows of quaint double ruching and the same placed around the waist in three rows and again about the bottom of the rather long skirt.

Asparagus On Toast

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

These early Spring favorites urge the cook to try her skill in making new dishes of them. Though we have enjoyed the canned asparagus all winter the fresh is sought anxiously on its arrival, for its flavor is just a little more attractive than when canned. As for the delicate pink stalks of rhubarb, they have not yet acquired the strong acid that dominates them as they grow older and they make very tasty spring pies and sauces. The pink stalks should be cut with a sharp knife and not peeled for sauces.

Rhubarb Triple Crust Pie
Wash and cut in pieces a good sized saucupful of rhubarb, add a small cupful of cold water and cook gently until the sauce is soft, then sweeten to taste. Meantime make a good rich short pie crust and line a buttered tin with it, marking the edge with floured times of a fork. Cut a round of crust, dust with flour and lay in the center of the crust; then another round floured on top. When done, lift out the rounds of crust without breaking. Fill the pie quarter full of the rhubarb sauce, then place a round of crust on top, cover with more rhubarb and add the last crust, dusting it well with powdered sugar. Whipped cream may be added at serving time if liked.

New England Rhubarb Fritters
Make the rhubarb sauce the same as suggested for pie filling. Make a fritter batter of one cupful of flour, one and a half teaspoonfuls of baking powder, two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch, three tablespoonfuls of sugar, a tablespoonful of melted butter, a quarter cupful of milk, one egg, the white and yolk beaten separately. When beaten smooth add a large cupful of the stewed rhubarb and drop by large spoonfuls into hot fat. Fry a golden brown, drain dust with powdered sugar and serve in a napkin. A sweet sauce may be served with the fritters if liked.

Asparagus Tip-Top
Cut the heads and about an inch of the stalks from a bunch of asparagus. Wash and cook in salted water for 15 minutes and then drain it. Meantime put half a tumbler of cream into a bowl and beat into it the yolk of an egg, pepper, salt, a tablespoonful of sugar and two heaping tablespoonfuls of butter that has been melted over hot water. When blended turn into a hot frying pan and stir gently for five minutes. Then add the asparagus and fry it in the mixture delicately and serve on a hot plate.

Asparagus On Toast
Trim wash and scrape a bunch of asparagus then boil in salted water in portion bundles of six stalks each. When done, drain and lay them on to slices of carefully made buttered toast arranged on a hot dish and turn over each some drawn butter sauce. Garnish with lemon quarters.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician, in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil as a substitute for calomel to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c, 30c and 60c.

She Discusses the Necessity of Conservatism in Novel Trimmings.

"WHAT a stunning coat!" exclaimed Helene as I strutted before the mirror at the shop in a beige woolen-mixture sport coat.

"Isn't it a love?" I replied, fondling its soft beaver collar. "I should not mind having it myself."

I had just been modeling it for a customer and was loathe to take it off. It was an awfully attractive model, ideal for sport and yet not inappropriate for street wear.

"It employs such clever ideas," Helene continued—"so many novelties and yet not the 'gauche' obvious kind that you can't possibly overlook. When you first look at it, you are conscious only of the fact that it is an attractive model and then its novelties dawn on you slowly and you realize just why you like it. The originality of the trimmings doesn't detract from the coat as a whole."

"I agree with you," I replied, "but take away those trimmings and what have you left? Take away the tie-scarf of beaver, sew up the sleeves in the sleeves, appropriate the side panels of beaver and rip out the rows of vertical stitching and what have you?"

"The answer should be 'Magnolia,'" replied Helene in her most facetious vein, "but for the sake of agreement I will say a perfectly plain unattractive coat."

"Right again," I replied, "so, my

Inter-Continental Link Plan Transit Interests

By WILSON WATERS

International-Illustrated News
Staff Correspondent

YOU may be able to make a direct trip to Europe. Plans have been suggested by Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania R. R. system, for a fast four day service across the North Atlantic.

Montauk Point, at the eastern tip of Long Island, would be the American terminal of the express steamers and connections will be made there by the Long Island Railroad, one of the Pennsylvania lines, Atterbury said.

GEN. W. W. ATTERBURY
(International Newsreel)

His announcement, made in a letter to Representative Fred A. Britton (R.), of Illinois, was the first declaration that the Pennsylvania system is prepared to give full co-operation to the new ship service which its backers declare will revolutionize trans-Atlantic passenger transportation.

"If we were asked to become financially interested, we would, of course, be glad to give the matter careful consideration, but at this time can hardly say what our position would be in that respect."

Atterbury endorses Montauk Point as a terminal for the express lines, pointing out that much time could be saved by rail connections there for passengers, mail and urgent freight and express matter. He said:

"A fast fleet of passenger ships between Montauk Point (Fort Pond Bay) and Europe is of great importance to the country and of special interest to our railroad.

"Fort Pond Bay is a natural safe harbor and presents no engineering difficulties.

"In shape the bay is semi-circular and in area it is fairly comparable with that section of the Hudson River between Twenty-second street and Forty-second street. The general depth of the bay is about five feet more than the draft of the largest passenger ship afloat."

Commenting on the letters, Representative Britton said: "I am hopeful that Summer of 1930 will see the inauguration of four day ships across the ocean."

wind will agitate the plant enough to produce the desired results.

The hand pollination system perfected by Prof. Montgomery and his assistants is exceedingly simple in that he uses a soft rabbit tail attached on the end of a stick to shake the tomato blossom and free the pollen grains.

The "shimmy" application is administered to the tomato plant every other day while it is in blossom.

A method of mechanical agitation which Prof. Montgomery is testing with good results is accomplished by fastening the tomato plants to a framework of wood and using a small electric motor for obtaining the movements.

When grown out of doors according to Montgomery, the

MENTAL DISEASE MAY BE AVOIDED AS ANY ILLNESS

No One Ever Goes Insane
Without Warning, Is Expert's View

Sacramento, April 9.—Mental disease may be avoided just as surely as physical illness.

So declares Dr. Anita Muhl, director of the state department of special education and noted psychiatrist today.

In explaining the why of nervous prostration and other tangled states of the nerves, Dr. Muhl points out how mental breakdowns may be avoided.

"No one ever goes insane without warning, although the expression 'he went insane suddenly' is common enough," Dr. Muhl says. "There are always danger signals before a breakdown. It may seem to a community that a man or woman goes 'off' without notice but close inquiry always reveals a period of unusual behavior preceding an irrational attack of any kind. And often they will admit 'he was always queer as a child.'"

Start in Childhood
And it is in childhood that the foundation for psychopathic conditions is laid according to the state's educational psychologist. Hence she claims it is necessary to study the peculiarities of children in order to direct their mental lives into healthy and normal channels.

"The time to begin avoiding insanity and nervous disorders is as soon as the individual shows a lack of adaption to his environment," the woman physician asserts. "The child who mopes and appears unseemable with his playmates should be studied carefully and his morbid tendencies corrected."

Frequently some forgotten emotional experience of early life is repressed and returns to haunt an adult, Dr. Muhl explains. "For instance, I studied the case of a man with a suicidal desire to jump off a bridge," she recounts. "He was wealthy, happily married, had everything in fact to live for."

Early Experience
"Upon exploring his sub-conscious memory an incident which

Father John's Medicine Helped Him

"My baby was sick, pale, and run down. One of my neighbor's recommended Father John's Medicine and since giving it to him he has felt fine and has no colds. He has also gained weight. I am giving it to all my children." (Signed) Mrs. Rose De Pontiliard, Shirley, Mass.

For children who are pale and thin, who suffer from repeated colds, Father John's Medicine has proven its value for more than 70 years. It builds new strength because it is pure and wholesome nourishment.

occurred in his seventh year was found to be the cause of his insane desire for self-destruction. At that age he had witnessed the drowning of a child. He stood on a bridge unable to swim and saw his playmate go under. Instead of jumping in he ran for help. The youngster had sunk before help arrived. At the time he suffered keenly from the feeling that he should have plunged from the bridge in an attempt to rescue the other boy. He had forgotten the circumstances years before, but the hidden memories of it tormented him as soon as it was drawn out into the open. The man was cured of his morbid impulse."

Parents should make a distinction between self control and repression. Self control cannot be taught too young, but the child should not be forced to bottle up his emotions without understanding them. Dr. Muhl insists.

PUBLIC UTILITY TAXES ARE HIGH

Companies In County To Pay 15 Per Cent Of
Total This Year

Columbus, April 9.—Public utility companies of Columbiana county will pay taxes this year on a valuation representing about 15 per cent of all taxable wealth in the county according to figures just announced by the state tax commission.

These utility companies are on the tax duplicate for $18,386,500, as compared with a total county duplicate of $124,761,850, representing taxable holdings of utilities, real estate, banks, corporations and individuals.

The utilities' valuation is more than twice that of all other corporations, and more than five times that of the banks. The corporation duplicate is $8,092,080 and the bank duplicate is $3,518,820.

Analyzing these figures, the Ohio committee on public utility information points out that taxes charged public utility companies must be reflected in rates charged consumers, inasmuch as the utilities have no other source of income.

In tax valuation figures of utilities, the valuation of two companies, Western Union Telegraph Co. and the Ohio Telephone & Telegraph Co., have not been included because the present valuation is disputed and is now the subject of litigation in the courts.

The average rate on which Columbiana county taxes will be paid this year is $22.575 per thousand dollar valuation, as compared with that of $21.577, on which taxes were paid last year.
